

Property Tax Transparency

The Ector County Appraisal District determines the market value of your property as of January 1 of each year. Market conditions and property ownership on that date establish whether the property is taxable, its taxable value, and who is responsible for paying the tax. The district also processes applications for exemptions, special appraisals, and other forms of tax relief. For more information about the local appraisal process, please contact the Ector County Appraisal District.

On May 3, 2025, voters approved the creation of the Ector County Emergency Services Districts 1 and 2. Under Texas Property Tax Code Section 26.12, taxing units created between January 1, and July 1 are authorized to levy taxes for that year. Additional information about the Ector County Emergency Services Districts 1 and 2 is available at <https://ectoresd.com/>.

Detailed information about property taxes can also be found at <https://ector.truthintaxes.com/>. By entering the owner's name, property ID, or property address, you can view details on taxes that may be imposed on your property by local taxing units, contact information for those units, dates and locations of public hearings on their tax rates, dates and locations of meetings where tax rates may be adopted, and opportunities to provide feedback directly to the taxing unit.

Posted <https://www.ectorcad.org/> and published on July 16, 2025, Odessa American

Visit Texas.gov/PropertyTaxes to find a link to your local property tax database on which you can easily access information regarding your property taxes, including information regarding the amount of taxes that each entity that taxes your property will impose if the entity adopts its proposed tax rate. Your local property tax database will be updated regularly during August and September as local elected officials propose and adopt the property tax rates that will determine how much you pay in property taxes.

Posted <https://www.texas.gov/living-in-texas/property-tax-directory/?search=Ector+County>:

The budgets adopted by taxing units and the tax rates they set to fund those budgets play a significant role in determining the amount of taxes each property owner pays. In 2019, the Texas Legislature passed legislation to help Texans better understand tax rates in their home county. Access timely information about how local tax rate decisions affect your tax bill on your county's Truth in Taxation website.